NINETEEN ARRESTS BY THE OFFICERS OF THE LAW ON CHRISTMAS

Only part of yesterday was "Merry" Christmas for at least nineteen men in the city, as members of Chief Norton's force caught them before the day was ended and left them to think things over in the city jail until morning.

Guard Tommy Lever said that last night and this morning there was more water drunk in the city jail than the city reservoir holds, so the captured celebrators had a great thirst.

In police court, the first man to arise from the crowded prisoners' bench was James Martin. Martin was given his liberty Wednesday after serving a term of forty-five days for stealing a suitcase. A few hours after his release he got drunk and duplicated the trick. He told the judge that he had been drinking alcohol and had no recollection of what he had done. His case was continued.

No. 2 was Thomas Allen. He pleaded guilty and said that he was awfully sick from the results of his spree. According to the statement of Desk Sergeant Walter Williams, Allen had been arrested twice before, during the month and had forfeited bail each time. The man was in a bad physical condition and Judge Reeder ordered that he be kept at the station and given medical treatment.

William Van Komen pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness and said that he was set for tomorrow morning. Martin Moran, an habitual sinner, said that he had gone back on his recent promise to the court, to reform. The "court" kept his promise to Moran by giving him a three months' sentence.

Luther Cutlip and John Edler were arrested late last night by Officer William Brown and booked as drunks. In court this morning the arresting officer said that just before he had arrested the two men, bystanders told him that they had seen Cutlip and Edler "roll" another man. Judge Reeder held them for further investigation.

It was a case of out again, in again, for Tom O'Neil, who was released Wednesday. He was given another chance.

A drunk giving the name of Murphy said that he wanted to go to Salt Lake and would start in an hour if he was released. The judge released him and told the officer to see that he got on the first train.

B. V. Barber said that he was drunk but not "real drunk." According to his story, he had gone to the police station to see if his pal was there and they had locked him up. According to Detective Bob Burk's statement, he had called Burk a number of vile names and that for reason was held in jail. Burk's statement was corroborated by Jailor Hagbert Anderson, and Barber was sentenced to serve ten days.

Leonard Dickson and George Grow, 19 years old, were charged with fighting and pleaded guilty. They were severely lectured by the judge and allowed to go on parole under a six months' suspended sentence.

A. Moulding was arrested at the New Colonial dancing academy on a charge of disturbing the peace. He pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until tomorrow.

W. R. Melrose pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. His case was taken under advisement.

Attorney A. G. Horn, acting for Luetta Melrose and Ethel Brant, asked for a change of venue for his clients. The petition was granted and counsel agreed on Judge S. T. Corn as the trial judge.

WOMEN ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF SELLING LIQUOR

The trial of Mrs. Luetta Melrose and Ethel Brant, charged with selling liquor without a license, is on this afternoon in the municipal court. Judge S. T. Corn is acting as trial judge and the defendants are represented by Attorney A. G. Horn. The city's case is being conducted by assistant city attorney John Heywood.

The witnesses for the prosecution are Sam Wiggleton and Edgar Richardson.

Deaths and Funerals

DUNN—The funeral of Joseph Dunn will be held in the Third ward meetinghouse tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Bishop Gilbert Thatcher presiding. The body may be viewed at the Lindquist undertaking parlors this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

Small Blaze—Shortly after midnight, the fire department was called to the Grant Avenue Waffle House, near Twenty-fifth street, when the awning was afire. It was thought that a lighted cigarette stub started the blaze.

WILLIAMS—Funeral services for Mrs. Gwen Williams will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. from the First Ward meeting house, Bishop Nathan Tanner officiating. Remains may be viewed at the family home, 226 West Patterson, Saturday afternoon and Sunday forenoon. Interment in Ogden cemetery.

TOMLINSON—Calvin Tomlinson the 14-month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Tomlinson, died yesterday at 10:30 o'clock at the home in Farr West from pneumonia. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. from the family residence, in Farr West. Interment in Ogden City cemetery.

J. H. MARTIN IS BROUGHT BEFORE JUDGE OF THE DISTRICT COURT

Through His Attorney, He Asks to Have His Bond Reduced as a Constitutional Right—Judge Howell Reserves Decision Until Saturday Morning—Prisoner Pale and Thin, But Retains His Composure—Is Taken to the County Jail.

Somewhat pale and thin, Joseph Henry Martin appeared before Judge James A. Howell this afternoon and pleaded not guilty to the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. The information specifically charges that Martin, on November 9, shot at and wounded David Edwards with a certain ball-bearing.

The prisoner answered the information in a clear resonant tone and with a determined expression. He looked the judge squarely in the face when he answered "not guilty," his face not changing in expression or showing any signs of excitement or remorse.

Martin was brought into the court room unaccompanied and accompanied by Sheriff T. A. De Vine, Deputy Sheriff Hobson and special detective Thomas Burk. His uncle, J. F. Martin, was in the court room with Martin and they spoke a few words at the termination of the brief hearing.

The judge said he would reserve his decision on the bond, but he would not consider what the probable defense will be in fixing the bond, as the presumption of guilt was imperative in his mind in fixing bail, saying that in the consideration of the matter of fixing bail, the presumption of innocence is reversed.

The presumption of innocence clings to the defendant at the time of trial, but the court in fixing a bond to hold him for trial must look at the situation through other glasses.

There were only a few people in the court room during the hearing, neither the defendant's wife nor his aunt being present. At no time have Martin's children appeared in the court room to see him.

The prisoner was remanded to the custody of the county sheriff and was taken to a cell in the county jail. Since his preliminary hearing, he has been held in the city jail.

ON RETURN VISIT

W. M. Hughes, former newspaper man of Ogden, but now engaged in the commission business with his father W. B. Hughes of Salt Lake is in Ogden with his wife spending the holidays, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Rowe. Mr. Rowe is the parcel officer of the state industrial school and he and Mr. Hughes were college chums at Provo.

Mr. Hughes was formerly employed as reporter on the Examiner, a member of years ago. He married Mrs. Dr. Beers while the trial of Fred Walker, charged with the murder of her husband, was in progress in this city, about 6 years ago. Mr. Hughes notes with considerable interest the progress of Ogden in a commercial way.

RUSH AT POSTOFFICE
PRACTICALLY ENDED
AT NOON

The Christmas rush at the post-office was practically over by noon today and tonight several of the extra clerks will be taken off. Assistant Postmaster Rufus Garner said today that a few extra clerks would be kept on in case of an inflow of mail that had been backed up along the line and in expectation of extra business at New Year's time.

The addition of the five wagons to the parcel delivery service proved all that was expected, instead of the corridors being crowded on Christmas day by persons waiting for their parcels all received them at their homes, making it more convenient for all concerned. This system is expected to give additional impetus to the patronage of the parcel post department.

FOUR MEN INDULGED IN CHRISTMAS SHEER

Arthur Jones, Sam Turner, Alfred Hopkins and Charles Murphy were arrested by Officer William Brown at Turner's home on Williams avenue. The crowd had been out sleigh-riding and all were having a little Christmas celebration afterwards. Turner was considerably under the influence of liquor and got in a quarrel with his sister. The neighbors called for the police and Officer Brown answered.

On the stand in police court this morning, the officer said that when he arrived at the place, he was met at the door by one of the women who was in the crowd and told that he was not wanted. He could see, however, that his services were needed and went in and got Turner. He tried to talk the man out of his quarrelsome mood but was unable to do so. He proceeded to place him under arrest and, as the others tried to prevent him from doing so, he called the driver of the patrol to assist him and took all four to the station.

After the four men had told their stories, Judge Reeder concluded that it was just a family celebration that overstepped the bounds a little and he lectured Murphy, Jones and Hopkins on the seriousness of interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. He then dismissed them with a suspended sentence.

Turner, the man whose quarrel with his sister caused all the trouble, was roundly scored by "his honor" and given a six months suspended sentence.

SIXTH WARD MEETING HOUSE IS TO BE DEDICATED

Dedicatory exercises in the Sixth ward will be held in the ward chapel next Sunday at 2 p. m. Members of the First presidency of the church are expected to officiate at the dedication.

A splendid program has been arranged, to include vocal numbers by Messrs. William Pickett, Gerard Klomp, Joseph Tracy and Joseph Madison, who compose the ward quartet. Mrs. David Foulger and the ward choir. The Axel Nylander trio will also render a number of selections.

The construction of the Sixth ward chapel was begun shortly after organizing the ward in 1909 and was finished about a year later. All outstanding obligations on the building have been paid and the people of the ward are rejoicing in the fact that the building can now be dedicated.

The exercises will be under the direction of Bishop Owen M. Sanderson and his two counselors, Thomas Clarke and George S. Burnham. The general public is invited to attend and a special request is made of the people of the ward to be at the meeting.

THE COL. HUDSON BUILDING

Referring to the troubles of the city school board regarding a home, the Hon. Fred J. Kiesel says he can see no reason why the board should worry, as the schoolmen can have their choice of the finest quarters in the Col. Hudson building at a reasonable rental.

Mr. Kiesel says there has never been a time when he would not get the board of education out of a tight place and he is ready to furnish good quarters at this time. He smilingly said this morning that the board would have no trouble in finding a good home.

A telegram was received yesterday by Secretary I. L. Reynolds of the Weber Club, from M. S. Brown, who is now in Los Angeles. The telegram contained the season's greetings from Mr. Brown to the club members and expressed the hope that the new club quarters would be as congenial as the old.

The members of the Club are pleasantly anticipating the reception to their friends at the formal opening of the new club rooms. The responsibility of the floral decorations has been placed in the hands of B. Van der Schuit. The arrangements to receive and take care of the large crowds expected to attend the affair are all completed and the club members believe that their friends will be well pleased with the new home club rooms.

DOLLAR WORTH $3,500

Ancient Silver Snuff Box,
Rings and $3 Continental
Note Discovered.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 26.—A silver dollar bearing the date 1804, highly prized by numismatists, and understood to be quoted at $3500 for collection purposes, was found here today.

William Sullivan, a laborer, excavating on the site of the ice tank for the Yale hockey team turned over with his shovel an old jar which rested on a boulder seven feet below the surface of the street nearby.

Under the bowl was a silver snuff box made in Nuremberg, green with oxidation, and in it a United States silver dollar dated 1804, in good condition, a number of Connecticut copper coins, a continental note for $3, several state notes and some rings. The metal articles were slightly corroded, but they rubbed up well and dates were plain. The notes had to be carefully handled to prevent disintegration.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

THE SLENER MAIDEN

In our grandmother's time, a maiden's attire

No less than today bore the critic's fire.

And when the slenderest maid appeared

Some fleshier lady would tell what she feared:

"I don't care how fair her face is;

I'm very much afraid that she laces!"

At the present time, when a sylphlike form

And a winsome face brings praises warm,

Some stouter dissenter is certain to say:

"Exactly the tone of our grandmother's day:

"Her face may be beautiful, but I note

That she hasn't the sign of a petticoat!"
